

ASSOCIATION OF CHIEF POLICE OFFICERS IN SCOTLAND

CONFERENCE 2009

Delivering on our Priorities

Sponsored by

CONFERENCE PROGRAMME

Easterbrook Hall
Crichton
Dumfries
27–29 May 2009

ACPOS Conference

27–29 May 2009

IBM is delighted to be sponsoring the 2009 ACPOS annual conference. Our objective is to be the trusted partner for the Scottish Police Service, using our local presence and worldwide law enforcement links to pro-actively solve complex problems for the benefit of the police and the communities they serve. We recognise that the key challenges for policing in Scotland continue to focus on doing more with less. The increase in demand for visible policing activities in our communities, combined with a continually evolving set of business requirements, means that policing needs to become constantly smarter. The same is true around the world. In order to meet these challenges, many police forces here in the UK and abroad are investing in new infrastructures to integrate processes, information and people. IBM is working with a growing number of law enforcement agencies, delivering technology innovation, professional services and business transformation expertise.

Our solutions include:

- Transformational information management, storage and retrieval
- Industry-leading server infrastructures
- Physical security enhancement with digital video surveillance
- IT and network security
- Mobile data and communications
- Crime data analytics
- Command and control

I wish you an enjoyable, informative and productive meeting and look forward to working with you on the challenges ahead.

Andrew Sime

Director

Sponsored by

President's Welcome

As President of the Association of Chief Police Officers in Scotland and Chief Constable of Dumfries and Galloway Constabulary, it is an honour to welcome you to the ACPOS Conference 2009 at the Easterbrook Hall.

Hopefully you will enjoy and fully engage in the conference, which represents a great opportunity to reflect on our successes and focus upon delivering on our priorities. Undoubtedly, our operating environment will be more demanding and challenging than ever.

In addition to the business of the Conference, we will have the opportunity to spend quality time together at both the Informal and Formal Dinners and, of course, for those able to attend, the Partners' Programme will provide an interesting insight into some aspects of this part of Scotland.

I hope you will agree with me that the venue we have chosen for the Conference this year will not only provide the facilities needed to hold such a large and prestigious event, but will also provide a first class and personal service in relaxing and comfortable surroundings.

I look forward to meeting with you personally during the Conference and hope that you thoroughly enjoy your time in the South West of Scotland.

Patrick Shearer

ACPOS President

Programme

Delivering on our Priorities

DAY ONE

WEDNESDAY 27 MAY 2009

1400 Delegate arrival and registration
Aston Hotel

1900 Pre-Dinner Drinks Reception
Duncan Rooms, Easterbrook Hall

1930 Informal Dinner
Duncan Rooms, Easterbrook Hall

2300 Finish

DAY TWO

THURSDAY 28 MAY 2009

Master of Ceremony

George Graham, Deputy Chief Constable
Dumfries & Galloway Constabulary

0800 Delegate arrival and registration
Reception, Easterbrook Hall

0845 Group Photograph
Meet in Reception, Easterbrook Hall

0900 Conference opened by
Patrick Shearer, Chief Constable
Dumfries & Galloway Constabulary
Main Hall, Easterbrook Hall

SESSION 1

Reflecting on Success

0910 Delivering for the Future
John Geates
Scottish Police College

0925 Scottish Police Leadership Fit for the 21st Century
Ian Latimer
Chief Constable, Northern Constabulary

0940 Intelligence Matters – Sustaining
Momentum
Johnny Gwynne
Deputy Director General, SCDEA

1005 Scottish Policing Performance
Patrick Shearer, Chief Constable
Dumfries & Galloway Constabulary

1030 Public Sector Funding and Working in Partnership
John Swinney MSP, Cabinet Secretary for Finance & Sustainable Growth

1055 Question and Answer Session

1115 Tea and Coffee
Gilchrist Room

Easterbrook Hall

River Nith, Dumfries

SESSION 2

Responses and Priorities

1145 Business Change – Shaping the Future
Colin McKerracher
Chief Constable, Grampian Police

1215 Business Area Prioritisation
David Strang
Chief Constable, Lothian & Borders Police

1235 DIM
Kevin Mathieson
Chief Constable, Tayside Police

1300 Buffet Lunch
Opportunity to network and view exhibitions
Gilchrist Room

Ferry leaving Cairnryan

SESSION 3

Building for the Future

1400 Life Begins at Forty!
Gordon Meldrum
Director General, SCDEA

1420 ACPOS and SPSA – Developing a Mature Partnership to Achieve
Common Goals
Vic Emery SPSA Convener, Introduction
Jo Brigham SPSA Interim Chief
Executive, Speaker

1500 Tea and Coffee
Gilchrist Room

1530 Innovate While You Integrate
IBM Team

1610 Working in Partnership
Ian Blake, Chair
Police & Fire & Rescue Committee
Dumfries & Galloway Council

1625 President's Closing Address

1700 Close

Formal Dinner

1930 Pre-Dinner Drinks Reception
Hosted by Dumfries and Galloway
Council
Duncan Rooms, Easterbrook Hall

2000 Formal Dinner
Kenny MacAskill
Cabinet Secretary for Justice
Reflecting on the Conference
Duncan Rooms, Easterbrook Hall

2300 Finish

Speakers

Kenny MacAskill

Kenny MacAskill was an MSP for the Lothians Region from 1999 to 2007 and has been MSP for Edinburgh East and Musselburgh since the General Election on 3 May 2007.

He was born in Edinburgh in 1958, and has previously been Shadow Justice and Home Affairs Minister. He was a long standing member of the SNP's NEC and has been National Treasurer and Vice Convener of Policy.

He was educated at Linlithgow Academy and Edinburgh University and was a senior partner in a law firm. In 2004 Kenny wrote a book entitled 'Building a Nation - Post Devolution Nationalism in Scotland'. He has since edited another book 'Agenda for a New Scotland – Visions of Scotland 2020' and has co-authored two books on the Scottish Diaspora, 'Global Scots – Voices From Afar' and 'Wherever the Saltire Flies', with the former First Minister Henry McLeish.

Kenny is married with two sons.

John Swinney

Born in 1964, John Swinney MSP joined the Scottish National Party in 1979 and went on to graduate from Edinburgh University with an MA (Hons) in Politics. He has worked for the Scottish Coal Project, Development Options and Scottish Amicable.

Prior to his election as Westminster MP for North Tayside in 1997, he held a number of posts in the SNP at local and national level. In 1999, he became the MSP for Tayside North, remaining as the constituency's MP until standing down from Westminster at the 2001 General Election.

He served as the SNP's Deputy Leader from 1998 and became Leader in 2000. After relinquishing his post in 2004, John Swinney became Convener of the Scottish Parliament's European and External Relations Committee.

He was re-elected as an MSP at the 2007 Scottish Parliament election and appointed Cabinet Secretary for Finance and Sustainable Growth.

John is married with two children.

Mission Statement

The Association of Chief Police Officers in Scotland, as the principal voice of police leadership, is committed to shaping and modernising policing.

ACPOS will fully engage with partners and, by delivering excellent policing services, collaboratively build safe, strong and successful communities.

Statement of Purpose

- To create the environment for the delivery of excellent, visible and accessible policing services
- To efficiently, effectively and economically develop the capacity and capability of policing in Scotland
- To inform and influence the development and delivery of public policy

Code of Ethics

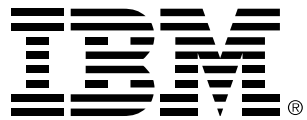

- Integrity
- Transparency
- Accountability
- Responsibility
- Impartiality

Guiding Principles

- Leadership
- Partnerships
- Customer Focussed
- Excellence
- Learning
- Diversity

ASSOCIATION OF CHIEF POLICE OFFICERS IN SCOTLAND

ACPOS thanks IBM for their sponsorship of this event.